THE 180 TOUR COMING TO HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLIES ACROSS AMERICA

This winter, The 180 Tour will travel to high school assemblies across the nation to encourage students to change their world—today, and we invite you to add your school to the list of tour dates. This tour is headlined by featured speaker and Columbine tragedy survivor, Crystal Woodman Miller; and completed with the music of Casting Pearls. The 180 Tour aims to help students understand that as they prepare for tomorrow, who they are today is what matters most.

With much excitement, The 180 Tour is setting out to bring students Crystal’s testimony of surviving Columbine and her powerful message of purposeful living and having a caring heart for others. With Casting Pearls’ national debut release this past August and recent radio hits, their music (Casting Pearls) is relevant to your students and brings the message full-circle, with their call-for-action lyrics that echo a challenge to do a complete 180 from just existing in life.

For more information on bringing The 180 Tour to a school near you, contact us and inspire students in your community to make 180 changes today.
